TENNIS CANADA STRUCTURE AND FUNDING

Structure

Founded in 1890, Tennis Canada is a non-profit, national sport federation responsible for the growth, promotion and showcasing of tennis in Canada and building a system that helps produce world-class players. It is one of the largest and oldest national sport associations in the country with membership composed of 10 provincial tennis associations and one associate member, the Northwest Territories Tennis Association.

In addition to operating all national events, Tennis Canada oversees Canada's international tennis championships as top tier tournaments on both the ATP Tour and WTA Tour. Tennis Canada is a member of the International Tennis Federation, the Canadian Olympic Association, and the Canadian Paralympic Committee. It serves to administer, sponsor and select teams for Davis Cup, Fed Cup, World Team Cup, the Olympic and Paralympic Games, and all wheelchair, junior and senior national teams.

Tennis Canada is guided by a volunteer Board of Directors, which is elected by the provincial tennis associations for a two-year term. Administration and coordination of Tennis Canada's development department and the international championships is based at the Aviva Centre on the campus of York University in Toronto. Tennis Canada also operates an office at IGA Stadium in Montreal.

Wheelchair tennis is integrated into the Tennis Canada strategic plan and delivered via the high performance, and events departments. The development of the sport is led by the director of wheelchair tennis and the National Coach.

WHEELCHAIR TENNIS PURPOSE, VISION, MISSION

Purpose

To improve the lives of Canadian through wheelchair tennis.

Vision

To become a world-leading wheelchair tennis nation.

Mission

To lead the growth of wheelchair tennis in Canada.

NATIONAL HIGH PERFORMANCE PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Tennis Canada has created a player development pathway with the vision of becoming a world leading wheelchair tennis nation. Four pillars comprise the entire pathway with two of the pillars – perform and podium – focused specifically on high performance. In addition, two years of extensive research and analysis has led to the creation of a Podium Pathway including the Podium Results Track, Winning Style of Play, and Gold Medal Profile.

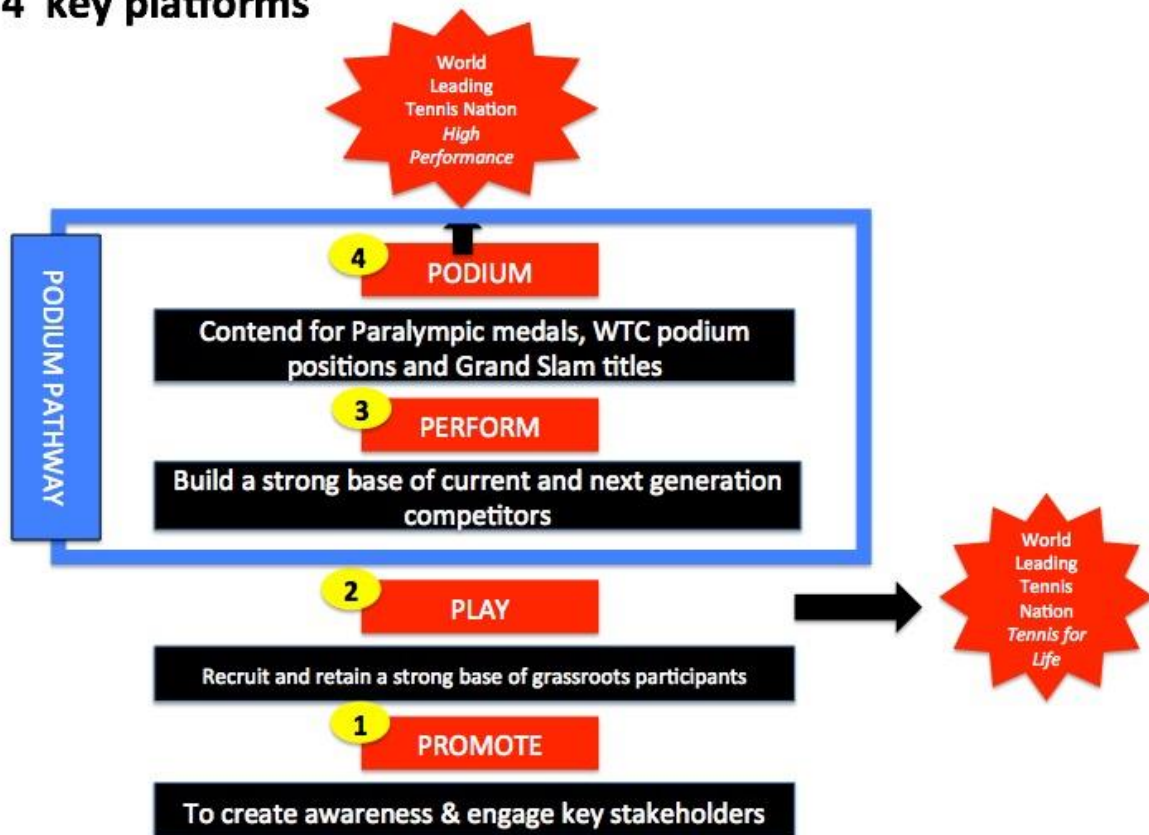

The National High Performance Program (NHPP) is one component of the pathway and is designed for athletes who are on track to meet Tennis Canada's, Sport Canada's, and Own the Podium's performance and podium objectives in 2020 and beyond. The objectives include:

- Paralympic and ParapanAm podium results
- Top 16 ITF singles world rankings
- Targeted World Team Cup results
- A pool of next gen athletes

The pathway is linked to the Tennis Canada Long Term Athlete Development Model and the result of studying international best practices. It focuses on all playing divisions including men's, women's, quad, and junior. The pathway, and associated performance indicators, will be reviewed annually to ensure the dynamic nature of the sport is captured. The pathway is illustrated in Figure 1 below.

Figure 1:

4 key platforms

NHPP: Streams and Performance Indicators

The NHPP is geared to athletes moving through the high performance pathway and is divided into two streams: Podium and Performance.

The Podium Stream is divided into three levels: Gold, Silver, Bronze

The Performance Stream is divided into six levels: Tier 1, Tier 2, Tier 3, Junior Transition to Pro, Junior, Prospect
